Education and Employments:

- Assistant Research Scientist (research faculty), COAPS, Florida State University, September 2007 – present.
- Postdoctoral researcher, COAPS, Florida State University, July 2005 – September 2007.
- Postdoctoral researcher, Meteorology, Florida State University, July 2004 – July 2005.
- Ph.D., Meteorology, Florida State University, U. S. A., January 2000 – May 2004.
- Research Scientist, National Meteorological Research Institute, Korea, January 1998 – November 1999
- M.S., Atmospheric Sciences, Seoul National University, Korea, February 1997.
- B.S., Earth Science, Seoul National University, Korea, February 1995.

Research Areas and Interests:

- Multi-model high-resolution climate prediction (dynamical and statistical models)
- Detection, attribution, and model experiments on the impact of land uses (e.g., vegetation and urban development) on surface climate change
- Global and regional model simulation and evaluation
- Diagnosis and prediction of monsoon, ENSO, and long-term climate variability and change
- Seasonal forecast of tropical cyclone frequency and intensity using numerical model and hurricane detection algorithm
- Multi-model ensemble technique
- Climate application to atmosphere-agricultural model and crop yield simulation
- Urban-scale climate change simulation

Scientific Work Experiences

- Assistant Research Scientist (Sep/07-present) and Postdoctoral research associate (Jul/05-Sep/07), COAPS, Florida State University
 - 1) Multi-model regional climate simulation (dynamical and statistical models)
 - 2) Global model simulations and model evaluations
 - 3) Decadal-scale climate variability and change
 - 4) Model study on regional surface climate change in response to land-cover types
 - 5) Application of the simulated regional climate to the agricultural crop model
 - 6) Hurricane detection algorithm from the numerical model output
- Postdoctoral research associate, Meteorology, Florida State University, Jul/2004-Jul/2005
 - 1) Study on surface climate change response to land-cover types and urbanization
 - 2) Statistical climate prediction of monsoon, surface warming, and ENSO events
- Teaching assistant, Meteorology, Florida State University, Jan/2004-Apr/2004
Class: “Advanced Dynamic Meteorology” (graduate course)
Class: “Dynamic Meteorology” (undergraduate course)
- Research assistant, Meteorology, Florida State University, Jan/2000-Dec/2003
 - 1) Diagnosis on monsoon variability (Seasonal variation of the Asian-Australian monsoon and the American monsoon, ENSO-monsoon (Asian, American) relationship, and the intraseasonal variability associated with the Madden-Julian Oscillation)
 - 2) Climate prediction (Medium to long-range prediction of monsoon and ENSO)
- Research scientist, Meteorological Research Institute, Korea, Jan/1998-Nov/1999.
 - 1) Climate diagnostics and prediction (Analysis on the greenhouse forced global warming, the Asian-Australian monsoon variability, climate prediction of monsoon precipitation)
 - 2) Urban climate model (Simulation of the atmospheric circulation and pollutant diffusion in the urban area with consideration of terrain effect)

Teaching Experience

- Advanced dynamic meteorology (spring2004, Florida State University)
- Dynamic meteorology (spring2004, Florida State University)
- Interactive data analysis (computer lab. assistant, fall2003, Florida State University)

Involved Projects Record

- Decision support system for reducing agricultural risks caused by climate variability (PI: Dr. James J. O’Brien), USDA CSREES (2009-38890-19911), Jul/2008-present
- NOAA Applied Research Center (ARC) regional assessment of interannual climate impacts and support for NOAA ocean observations (PI: Dr. E. Chassignet), NOAA (NA06OAR4310070), Jun/2006-present.
- Comparison of NCEP/NCAR and ERA-40 surface temperature trend (PI: Dr. Ming Cai), NSF (ATM-0403211), Jul/2004-Jul/2005.
- Studies on the Asian-Australian monsoon variability and predictability using physical decomposition (PI: Dr. Kwang-Yul Kim), NSF (ATM-0353494), Mar/2004-Apr/2007.

- Studies in long-term noise statistics, regional climate sensitivity and predictability (PI: Dr. Gerald R. North and Dr. Kwang-Yul Kim), DOE (DE-FG03-98ER62610), Jan/2000-Sep/2003.
- Studies and application of cyclostationary empirical orthogonal functions (PI: Dr. Kwang-Yul Kim), NSF (ATM-9613748), Jan/2000-May/2003.
